

Heidi K. Gardner, PhD, is the author of the best-selling book Smart Collaboration and newly released Smarter Collaboration: A New Approach to Breaking Down Barriers and Transforming Work (both Harvard Business Press). A Distinguished Fellow at Harvard Law School and previously a professor at Harvard Business School, she is currently the faculty chair and instructor in multiple executive education programs at both institutions.

Named by Thinkers 50 as a Next Generation Business Guru, Dr. Gardner is a sought-after advisor, keynote speaker, and facilitator for organizations across a wide range of industries globally. With her team at Gardner & Co, she works extensively with boards, executive teams, and other senior leaders to boost performance by embedding the principles and practices of smarter, agile, cross-silo collaboration within those groups and across the broader organization and ecosystem. Her work results in concrete, quantifiable performance improvements.

Altogether, Dr. Gardner has authored (or co-authored) more than 80 books, chapters, case studies, and articles. Her research received the Academy of Management's prize for Outstanding Practical Implications for Management, and has been selected multiple times for Harvard Business Review's "best of" collections. Her research has been featured in major media outlets around the globe.

Dr. Gardner has lived and worked on four continents, including as a Fulbright Fellow, and for McKinsey & Co. and Procter & Gamble. She earned her BA in Japanese from the University of Pennsylvania (Phi Beta Kappa, Summa cum Laude), a Masters degree from the London School of Economics, and a second Masters and PhD from London Business School.
